

BRIEF BIOGRAPHY:

Thomas McKinney, MHA, MT (ASCP), FACHE

Thomas McKinney is an executive leader with more than twenty years in health care. He currently serves as the President and CEO of Baptist Medical Center in Downtown San Antonio, Texas where he leads a team of 1300+ health care professionals at the 607-bed acute care hospital. In this role, Thomas manages operational and financial performance, quality and patient experience, physician relations, system integration, as well as strategic and sustainable market development.

Over the last decade, Thomas has directed acquisition and transition teams, managed complex operational environments with in various P&Ls, and expanded or created new service lines within rural and urban markets. Baptist Medical Center is Thomas's 5th hospital to serve as CEO.

Thomas holds a Bachelor of Science in Medical Technology from the University of North Texas and holds a Masters in Healthcare Administration from the Seton Hall University of South Orange, New Jersey. He also received a Certificate of Completion in Medical Technology from the University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston. Thomas is a Fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives and is board certified by the American Society of Clinical Pathology.

Thomas, along with his wife of 26 years, Julie, and their two daughters, Katie (18) and Lily (13), love camping, fishing, and spending time with family and friends.